

last but not least you are alone on this journey alone so that you can realize that you were never alone yes you may be alone as in you don't have people around you but you will no longer feel lonely there is this special connection that you already have or will soon discover that will change your life remember this spiritual journey is literally deepening your connection to the Divine the connection to God and the universe you are connecting to who you truly are you will come to find out that you don't need anyone else on Earth to Feel Complete anymore you won't need anyone else to give you those feelings you use to want from others you won't need love because you are love you won't need validation because you will validate yourself you won't need anything outside of you to make you feel happy any emotion or feeling you want you will come to find out that it was all inside of you this whole time you will find out how powerful you truly are standing alone you will become aware of the Creator and the powerful manifester you are all of this powerful knowledge comes to you when you are alone and going through the darkest time of your life so stop asking why you are going through this alone and stop asking why you have to deal with so much pain soon you will get to the point where you realize that pain is a blessing and this alone time is a blessing you have been given the chance to create the life you want you are getting a reset button on life do not miss this opportunity and give up on yourself I promise you that everything is working out for you and everything will be okay thank you for watching keep going you got this